PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT:

Wawani Nation - Does Not Exist

The word Wawani has no meaning when googled. Making utter fools of the people who did not confirm their fake nation at least had a name with meaning. This latest scam against the island's people by those trying to weasel their way into the parliament, as political newbies, by any means necessary. A game plan by uneducated airhead men, the former Shooting the Breeze types who have made themselves a societal danger and should not be on the loose. 🌿🐱🐻🔥🐸

This dude ran a long con facade for years until his frustrations ballooned and boiled over into rage and anger when realizing I was no pushover. With an inexplicable, despicable persistence I since learned was designed to deter me away from my already well-known, traceable and established ancestry in a bid to hijack and cause future problems. I was the difficult target for identity theft by an unknown small-time hustler.

The weakest minds who do not bother themselves with research but rushed to the fore to obstruct ancestral reality. I was subjected to years of this attempted criminal grooming by the political actor. Whom I warned repeatedly carries the low intellect of a minion. Not unlike any other garden variety politician. 🍊🐢🐬

There was already cause to call out that calibre of foolish men and the risks they pose to everyone. They were again on-air in UK, brazenly and disrespectfully with all types of arrogant nerve publicly grooming unsuspecting women, who know no better, to allegedly commit theft in a new crime wave. 🏠🐬

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT:

Wawani Nation - Does Not Exist

Sadly, lured by the hapless. There were no measures of protection in place in case the lady who claimed she is an empress had alleged fraud charges leveled against her. The woman had no evidence of the status she pretended and embarrassed herself faking a royal emperor influence she could not trace backward to not one ancient royal house throughout any millennia. Neither could she produce the details attached to her false claims. This was due to her lack of knowledge of such things, and although who tend to believe endless lies from politicians. Parliament management are always on the lookout for weaklings to use, it is much easier to drive them into slavery since there will be no questions asked. They then wrap themselves in nonexistent political glory fueled by not hero, but zero worshippers. In those days new politicians were then allowed to shuffle into the parliament as public servants in the early 1950s. The brutal modern day actions are easily recognized, as the same old on replay. When wretched political leaders asked, did not know how to power up the title, due to enticement to act out a part to the public using a false identity. The on-air groomers shamefully never knew about the stringent requirements either. Women are being corralled in Barbados by the ignorant with ulterior motives who are desperate to join the same cabal to achieve corrupt politician status, and would do and say anything to get there. Be mindful, careful, be aware. These grotesque manifestations are a direct result of the 1966-2024, and even before. When the rachet, bottomfeeder mentality, questionable behaviors, and practices of the wicked readily primed to exploit the gullible, and mislead the helpless in government yearning for a real title turned their illegal knowledge about me, into a personal hustle for decades. There were no boundaries for the crimes they were willing to commit to assume an identity to which none are entitled. The very same ugly, dirty, corruptly evil Muttley scam recently taken over and performed by a tenacious empty-headed blowhard of the lowest stature, working overtime and trying everything in his gravely limited mental power to slither into the parliament. As I said often to his face, the actor and allies are largely semi-literates. The most influential types, if one is not on guard for such intrusions, and can easily be sucked into a world of gangsters with agendas. This one is no different to the local politician parasite he castigates, but perfectly mirrors. He has proven me right. Instead of focusing on the fact that deliberate subversive tactics were allegedly deployed by the local corrupt to prevent us outspokenly holding discussions with Afrika for their role in our ancestor's violent removal from the continent. However, the prime concern of politicians from all sides, remained stealing classical honorifics. This became an obsession with them, although none have any clue, ideas or means in the form of training to operate within such legendary, unreachable realms. Will definitely have to ask for help. Once there are titles to steal, they will never want to hold Afrika accountable, because of their accolade fetish. The due diligence needed to unmask another anti-black crime was apparently not the policy of the non-existent ghost nation Wawani, or the newbie political party, stuck in a pantomine masquerading as one of the few opposition on the island. Since they all have the same strategies to attempt a theft of what is none of their business. We must now wonder who in the current government positioned themselves to allegedly commit a treasonous act against ascendants. In what now appears as an alleged hoax to coax willing Afrikan Presidents to participate in the sue the UK and Europe plot. A bag of tricks and 3-card monte to once again deny us our inalienable human rights. These are the serious matters should concern scammer politicians, not attempts to pilfer appellation to fool the electorate, oppress and show-off on them, push up their chests, tell even more gigantic lies, preen, and put on airs. Some people should not be allowed near banners.

The Afrikan ascendants in Barbados, the wider region and further afield will have to advance toward consultations directly with Afrika. Because Caricom politicians gave up the right to do so when they created convoluted mayhem and are in no position to negotiate anything. This was their miscalculation and I am sure they hope no one noticed. Many years ago, I posted information because of the misleading diatribe coming from the UWI talking heads. I asked, how come they seem not to know and certainly never told the people, that the only way for the west to pay us reparations is to source it from Afrika, in their usual manner. I then posited that we should approach Afrika directly ourselves for our entitlements instead. Then work things out individually with the west without politician's input. So when the Barbados Prime Minister put together this trillion dollar lawsuit and roadshow, imagine my concern, because the reality still holds firmly. For the west to pay trillions of dollars in reparations to us, they must first source it from Afrika. The question is, why is this so difficult for the titled to understand. How could public servants from parliaments and the establishment, along with university heads get all disoriented when this truth is mentioned and refuse to accept. We gave them no permissions to sue the west, they did not consult with us and we can sue Afrika ourselves for our entire heritage and right to exist as free Afrikans, the original people of the earth. In their reparations hysteria, Caricom made a total mess and now cannot settle any claims with or petition Afrika on our behalf. Since they inadvertently and permanently disqualified themselves when they joined forces with Afrika to prosecute the west. O Karma!! Another raging conflict of interest has once again hogtied them. The task is now left to ascendants to see it to the end, as said at the very beginning. Colonial servants with their Judas flair have no right in this or any other parlay related to Afrikan people's future. Politician's track record in the last 100 years is less than stellar when it comes to practicing morals, ethics and honesty toward black populations, each is still lacking. The last people on earth who should force their involvement in our business at any scale. When seeking an audience with Afrika's leadership on the subject matter, the liars and deceivers will see their end appear, and they know it, hence the new barriers thrown up, now turned into another famous cockup. The incompetents have knowingly crippled the entire repair process because their priorities do not include the wellbeing, progress, development, accumulation of generational wealth, human rights, or the freedom and future security of Afrikan populations in the diaspora. All the elected do is chase shadows and never see. 🐼🐼

This is the best time to dialog personally with Afrika at a different and much higher level than mere political. Once those individuals presenting with free minds are not trapped under bajan politicians as human property, with their dangerously leaking venom, light will shine through. For those taking the plunge to regain ancestry, this eliminates the need for cabinet or involvement from bajan lawyers not chosen by ascendants, while in such conversations with Afrika. These misleaders had a one in a million chance at righting the wrongs committed and wilfully pretended none existed from Afrika's end. Since the Caricom designers, with malice aforethought completely ignored, destroyed that opportunity, are unqualified to participate, and with acute success embedded and buried themselves even deeper in concretized conflict of interest afresh. Then, with great zeal neutralized their interaction. We can say with conviction and emphasis, we do not want Caribbean politicians in this project. This is much too important for the compromised to drive the narrative. 🐼🐼🐼🐼

When Caricom partnered with Afrika to sue UK and Europe, their right to do the same to Afrika was eliminated. The Caribbean mis-managers have presented as a clear and present danger to all Afrikans globally. As Afrika is out of reach for any lawsuit or settlement through them, related to the transatlantic and middle passage trades, due to their liquid stupidity and whatever alleged unethical, and questionable arrangements regarding Commonwealth members suing the UK and Europe as a unit, they may have unknowingly conjured and triggered. They thereby, erased the need for and prohibited themselves from any discourse with Afrika about paying us our ancestral due forthwith. O Karma!! 🐼🐼

But, we as Afrikan ascendants can settle with and or file suit for reparations, without them, because we have no such shackling conflict of interest, restrictions, barriers, nor are we tied up in any dubious covenants to stall the repair process. Although there is no need for any of that because Afrika should have already reciprocated minus having more critical facts pointed out to them, and touch base with us directly, without Caricom. People are now encouraged to participate, those who see themselves as Afrikans. Since some are comfortable as the bajan slave-minded and publicly express that desire and sentiment. Even modern day sheep know when they are being misled by humans and have started fighting back, but not so the slave-minds. They believe that is their lot in life. It is a personal decision to remain blinded and trapped. 🍌🐶🐑

But those who are interested in individually asserting their rights to justice, claim their Afrikan heritage themselves, and the debt owed to them and their ancestors by Afrika, as humans, and not slaves, can and should use the available choice. While mindful of the high profile con artist colonial politicians in the west, who are not above stealing your identities and sending others in your place as impostors, all for financial gain. As everyone is aware, none can be trusted and should never represent us in reparatory repair. Karma made sure that is how it is working out, take heed. A people who for 20 generations do not know who they are, should try to find out.

My reign is very private, as sovereign, and only related to these types of human rights crime cases of this magnitude in the public arena. When exposure is essential, as in this instance I am prepared to act, but this does not include my personal involment in what intelligent Afrikan people can manage and find workable solutions to myriad problems themselves. As I have no interest in ruling over populations still severely traumatized generationally centuries later from previous and current events, and have had no treatment. A miscarriage of justice found on both continents and maliciously kept in place by politicians. Amen-Ra

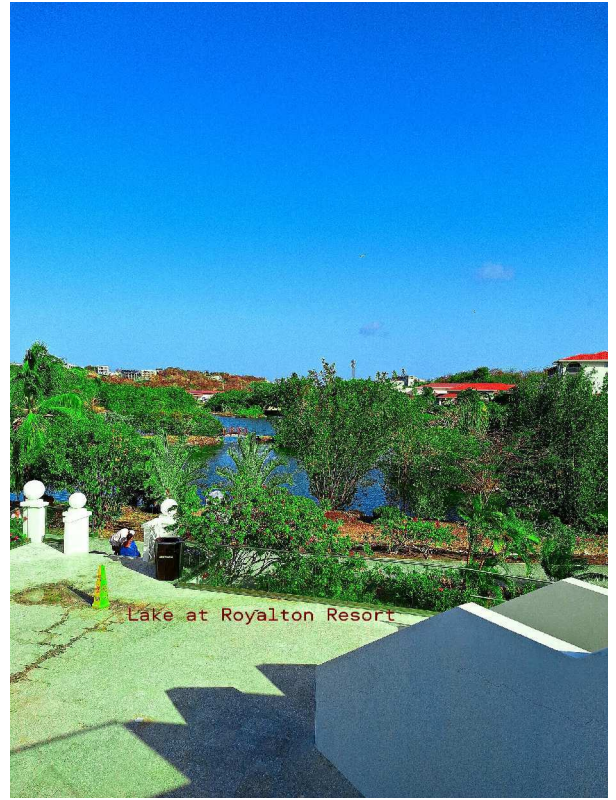

Fire to the Apep of the Duat in all their numerous political criminal forms.
