

african online publishing

Kush Quarterly Magazine.

Malkia Wa Walfalme

Issue /33 January-June 2033

Queen of the Monarchs Empress Wuraola Oya
Embracing the Entire Global Space

Read our book Pages 24-27 in Kush Quarterly Magazine

and on:

african-online-
publishing.webflow.io

Artist: Keven Reynolds

Table of Contents

Page 2Editorial

Human Trafficking - The Disrespect for Afrikan Liberation Day

Dismissing Ebola

Traveling As A Slave To Afrika v. Traveling As A Free Person

Artist: Keven Reynolds

"Nebt Het, Divine Sister, the Eye of Ra, Lady of the Beautiful House. May She grant that my soul walks Amongst those who are in Hotep."

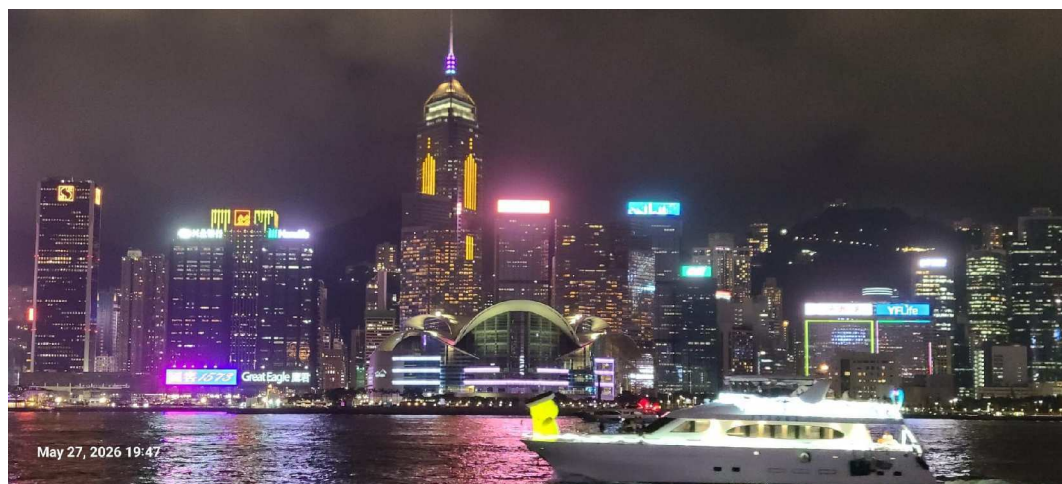

-Papyrus of Ta-Shed-Khensu

Excerpt taken from Spiritual Warriors are Healers by: Mfundishu Jhutyms Ka N Heru Hassan K Sali

Ma'at
Divine Order, Balance
Editorial
Human Trafficking - The Disrespect for Afrikan Liberation Day
By Empress Wuraola Oya

The contempt and disdain shown for Afrikan Liberation Day was disheartening, but given previous behaviors, we are assured this one was meant to elicit a smirking smile that very few people knew about the day, therefore the shameless were able to belittle it without getting caught, and show no reverence. I do not remember seeing where it was celebrated in Barbados, and if the government did, what was the point, the indignity was already completely sealed. However, a few people acknowledged the liberation spirit, so the criminality coming from mis-leadership did not work out as hoped. The irony is the trafficking of Afrikans off the continent to coincide with such a monumental occasion was beyond incivility and meant to ridicule our Afrikan ancestry with disgust. The actions were made more profound with bloodlines still in vitro subjected to the trip across the Atlantic, the optics said everything. As of this writing, reports are that these heavily pregnant women are homeless, a display of indifference to the plight created by money hungry beasts after all the lies and false promises made to them in Afrika.

Harbor Front
- Hong Kong

Hopefully, there is an intervention to have the Afrikan ladies returned to the continent before giving birth. Females are not allowed to travel by airline after the fifth month of pregnancy in the west, a policy. Barbados and Associates know very well that heavily pregnant women should not fly because of the high risk factor. Apparently Air Peace, who I think goes to the US, has no such rule in place for this region, I am sure they have to observe it in bigger countries, if they fly there. Since Barbados did not care, once they got the people on board. The onus is on Afrikan governments to prevent this from happening again, it reportedly happened twice already that we know about. This is the best reason to put an immediate end to the colossus for a human trafficker from striking a third and fourth time, she has demonstrated capabilities already. With a human trafficking network now fully operational, plans are always for the long haul. This was supposed to last for decades as a legacy, had it not been caught right off the bat, so there is absolutely no reason for us to hear it survived and is still in existence after this month: much effort must now be extended to put a permanent end to this terror campaign against Afrikan people, shut it down.

Editorial

By Empress Wuraola Oya

Human Trafficking - The Disrespect for Afrikan Liberation Day

One island hosted members of the Rastafarian Community from Nigeris out of respect and in commemoration of consciousness that kept us aware, generations of these individuals did not fail to deliver, in contrast to the false narratives issued across the region for centuries, cemented by the dimmest politicians during the miseducation phase, still in place and was never erased, but trafficking is uppermost in their minds, not educating populations or reconnecting them to their real story. The observance culminated with further celebration in NYC. I would think everyone will distance themselves after what Barbados did in response and in clear opposition to the symbol of Afrikan freedom. How could anyone with a conscience, a modicum of common sense condone this high handed vileness, coming from a colonial politician filled to the brim with such arrogance. Who apparently earmarked herself to mislead the entire Caribbean into an undeserved hell filled with more chaos and turbulence and no exit in sight. Fortunately for us, they are weakening significantly so every strategy is disintegrating on impact after many decades of overall abuse, over four generations, especially the most recent failed attempt at taking charge of the region to incapacitate everyone. Amen Ra

Disney Structure
Japan

Dismissing Ebola

Despite Ebola reported as "a global threat," another flight made it into Barbados around the first week in June, the determination not to halt them even if it meant infectious spread and the attached horrors, says volumes. Politicians who have a history of exhibiting haughtiness and intense loathing for Afrikan people in spite of the wide gape-toothed smile, show an unnatural stubbornness to derail Afrikans at every opportunity. Given that their own origins are so much worse than most, had all things been equal, they would be in prison generationally for what they show off, where none of it was earned, acquired honestly nor are any of it rightfully theirs, as is well known, and finally showing true selves as an unwanted and unneeded plague on the Caribbean. Further, such narcissists should never have leadership positions, it can only end in disaster, with thousands of victims already littering timelines and trailing behind them, a travesty. When people show you exactly who they are after wearing a mask for the past eight years that finally slipped when the veneer could no longer hold, believe them.

© O House of Oduduwa Ile Ife (David and Solomon) the Black Afrikan Queendom of Kush

Editorial

Dismissing Ebola

The minority government was willing to deceive the population into a false sense of health immunity on the Ebola topic, trotting out doctors with no expertise on the subject matter to spread more false information and present as knowledgeable for a monthly salary. Now we are left to wonder, what it will take to end this Afrika to the Caribbean "mission Barbados", a danger to Afrikan lives, a disruption to our peace and safety, including death to our families:

Forbes.com

Updated: June 2, 2026

The current Ebola outbreak in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) is "deeply alarming," according to Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF – a.k.a. Doctors Without Borders). In a statement, MSF deputy director, Dr Alan Gonzales said, "Never before has an Ebola outbreak recorded so many cases so soon after its declaration...Like everyone in the affected areas, MSF teams are witnessing a response that has not yet caught up to the rapid spread of the epidemic."

The outbreak has already reached Uganda and threatens neighboring states, including war-ravaged South Sudan. At present, there are more than 1,000 suspected cases in the DRC, and at least 246 deaths. Uganda has reported nine confirmed cases and one death. The actual totals may be higher.

There are six reasons why this outbreak merits everyone's attention.

1. Ebola Is One Of The World's Deadliest Infectious Diseases

Ebola is a severe, often fatal illness. The family of viruses that cause it is transmitted to people from fruit bats, porcupines, and non-human primates. Once someone is infected, the disease spreads through direct contact with their secretions, blood, or other bodily fluids, whether the person is living or dead. It can also be transmitted through contact with contaminated surfaces, bedding, or clothing, according to the World Health Organization (WHO). The time interval from infection to symptom onset can range from two to 21 days. People are contagious once they develop symptoms. The only way to confirm the disease is with a special laboratory test.

Nebt Het

"I have encircled My brother Asr; I have come that I may be thy magical protection. My protection is around thee, forever; Thy call has been answered by Ra,"

Coming Forth by Light Utterance 151c

Excerpt taken from Spiritual Warriors are Healers by: Mfundishu Jhutyms Ka N Heru Hassan K Salim

Heru is spiritual protection, life, stability and power.

© O House of Oduduwa Ile Ife the Black Afrikan Queendom of Kush

Traveling As A Slave To Afrika v. Traveling As A Free Person

Afrikans should be able to travel to this region without duress, without slaver-minded politicians interfering and organizing to control travel and destinies; only for their victims to end up in dire situations, abandoned and have to fend for themselves, as happened multiple times before, where the same fake pan africans, Come-a-Long-Comess-song, has arranged these flights for years, and they always end the same way. Afrikans should not face fraudulent enticements then upon landing relegated to become the dregs of society, all because a confused nutjob believes it owns humans.

People in Barbados and this region were warned years ago to arrange their own travel to Afrika, do lots of research/due diligence first, make connections with established, solid groups who do not scheme, have taken people to Afrika for over 40 years, there are many such groups found everywhere, but once you travel with governments who still have slave codes on statute books you are traveling as a slave with everything that signifies. When the Barbados governments were still terrorizing Afrikan centered people for embracing Blackness, people were traveling to the continent, now the political hypocrites act like no one can go to Afrika without them.

© O House of Oduduwa Ile Ife the Black Afrikan Queendom of Kush

Traveling As A Slave To Afrika v. Traveling As A Free Person

Afrika is our ancestral land, it does not belong to anywhere called Barbados and never will, no one wants that stain on their ancestor's holdings. This is what happened to Afrikans, waylaid by those with slaver tendencies. The time has arrived for Barbados to be put firmly in its place, they have maneuvered and sown wrath everywhere they touched down, this is unacceptable. No one has to tolerate such anti-Afrikan, anti-people, psychotic demeanors anymore, this cannot be overstated. One would think, since the reveal that the parliament/island has always been controlled by the lesbian and homosexual element, and always will, they would breathe a sigh of relief and can now act normally, be themselves, no more assuming different roles/identities every day or donning a face visor for every occasion.

A heavy weight lifted where they do not have to hide behind anything anymore, especially from Afrikan presidents, and can move on; no longer have to use fear, intimidation or legislation to threaten anyone into silence under the color of cybercrime bill and computer misuse act; but instead they continue to wreak havoc, and sow discord. Something is obviously wrong, everything is made much more difficult. This highlights they are the problem, not the solution, and definitely counterproductive to good governance. The people deserve much more and a lot better than what politicians produce. Since then, things have gotten progressively worse, meaning this is irreversible, the deterioration is entrenched. At which point will the people have enough of this road to the unthinkable. No one should open themselves to such jeopardy, especially where entire families are also dragged along in government muck.

The path to destruction is already well paved and they are going through the motions. Malevolent cruelty led to this, we all know work permits should have been offered to the trafficked Afrikans, they had years to run false advertising initiatives, using trickery instead of processing the aforementioned. We are now seeing adverts June 5, 2026 on Youtube for those interested in moving to Barbados, stating there are "Visa and Permit Options for Foreigners," so why were Afrikans trafficked instead? When there are at least four or five Barbados consulates/missions established in and around West Afrika to process such documents.

© O House of Oduduwa Ile Ife the Black Afrikan Queendom of Kush

Traveling As A Slave To Afrika v. Traveling As A Free Person

Barbados taxpayers must ask politicians, exactly why is their money funding multiple offices in Afrika and paying salaries, if their function is strictly for strategizing re enslavement purposes, in that case, it is time to shut them all down. This mistreatment of Afrikans is a decades-long pattern in Barbados, governments never treat their people well, only as commodities; and Afrikan presidents should also demand swift answers, because we know that is not the official reception people calling themselves bajans received in Afrika. To that end, Afrikan leaders who care about the welfare of the people, and their future should know they must throw up safeguards and reinforced steel barriers against this onslaught to prevent a repeat of Barbados' criminal class convincing itself it has taken over Afrika and can commit any atrocity under the guise of diplomatic immunity.

Even if any presidents want to bury their heads in the sand, trafficking in human body parts is big business, there is a viable market, and when disreputable politicians have the stomach to traffick in humans including unborn Afrikans, body parts become nothing it is all about the money, this has to be taken into consideration; and Afrikan populations must be protected from that scourge or perceived as being at the mercy of Barbados. Besides, it is way past the time to stop Mia Mottley from interference on our continent, to disrupt the natural order of things, she has absolutely no link to our ancient worlds, never will, and is completely shut out from our ancestral conversations, always will, she has already done more than enough damage. Amun Ra

Kush Quarterly Magazine.

HOUSE OF DAVID AND SOLOMON
BLACK AFRIKAN QUEENDOM OF KUSH

© Copyright

Japan

Neith (Net)

"I am all that has been, that is, and that will be,"

"...Neith, Mother of mothers, Lady of Abu, the great lady, Lady of the south, the great cow who gave birth to the sun, who made the germ of Ntchru and men, the mother of Ra, who raised up Tem in primeval time, who existed when nothing else had being, and who created That which exists after she had come into being. ...with her mate, Khnemu

-From a Temple at Seni (Esna) Old Period

Excerpt taken from Spiritual Warriors are Healers by: Mfundishu Jhutyms Ka N Heru Hassan K Salim