Reparations With Re-Colonization Strings Attached

SPIRITUALITY IS WAITING

As you follow the Divine Light Amen.

The NTCHR is the totality of all spirits

Therefore, through the Ntchru we can make a spiritual connection

Harmonious order... Infinite peace... Spiritual Oneness...

This divine greatness exists within us and all around us

However, most of us miss it! Not even close!

Because we are too involved in the rituals of the wrappings of abstract life

Change is not possible because it's not on our daily agenda

The alignment of spirit, mind and body has to be a priority

Reparations With Re-Colonization Strings Attached
By Empress Wuraola Oya

Personally I believe this is a local initiative by the usual suspects who refuse to let go of the colonizer's template regarding the mental enslavement of Afrikan descended communities by any means necessary. The aim is to distort anything designed by Spiritual means and sell the concept to slave masters, many times as their own invention, after thefts. This time the Anglican church has gone overboard, although knowing they will be exposed for overstepping after years of criminal hypocrisy, before and post emancipation.

It was reported they are now government controlled, so when we started hearing about a Bob Marley Mass. Some people voiced concern given the church's violent history against anyone associated with the Rastafarian Community or Afrikan Spirituality which they irreversibly and deeply hate because, as slave minds, are unable to slick talk, fake, or lie it into existence, and have no access to the most ancient ancestral spaces period. Same predicament as politicians, causing both groups to release a malignant subhuman aura.

However, when it comes to misusing what they can never depict for beastly intent, there is no stopping them. Full details are not yet available about how they plan to or already used Bob Marley's music, Although I noticed a video circulating and wondered were they given permission: or is this another obnoxious play by the government, who believe they have to answer to no one, and once again imposed itself, and maybe misappropriated copyrighted material via the church to keep already mixed up minds perpetually captured, and make money in the interim. We will find out in due course if they sought consent, got it, or gave themselves the liberty to usurp, plagiarize other people's intellectual property for which they are well known.

Then there is the infamous immoral, unethical perspective. When asked about their history of disrespecting all things Afrikan, Spiritual and now suddenly using Reggae as a prop. Composed by one of its stalwarts who stood up, spoke out/sang and fought; and whose offspring have written against the numerous exploitative, oppressive and destructiveness against Afrikan people the church is still legendary for condoning and spitefully perpetrating. A very fair question deserving of an honest answer, but there never was anything honest about the church, they are built on crime and the blood, sweat, tears and criminality against Afrikans.

I would have added, exactly where do they think they are going with the followup to chattel slavery, the re-enslavement of Black minds now they no longer have access to the same bodies to brand with hot irons, torture and break. The pompous, by nature, refused to acknowledge the first question or respond to the writer's query. This is very similar to the parliament coming up with a plot to race all over Afrika with a shameful pan african performance. Yet their history supports decades of still continuing brutal punishment directed at Black Afrikanized minds who genuinely do the same to educate ascendants without acting out a two-faced role.

A life of horror and terror ensues, but we lived to see these latest parliamentary demons weaponize a scheme and lied to an entire continent until exposed to the world. They still continue, even after trafficking unborn Afrikan babies and luring others into modern day slavery in the Caribbean using the worst possible deceit. Now we have the church believing they can also get away with running a long con on the minds of the people. Do they not have creatives who can write songs, or did they destroy young minds to get rid of all Afrikan ancestral gifts and now want the ready made that was previously rejected, returning to their vomitus.

Since it was not long ago reported the government offered churches five million dollars a year, so naturally would expect them to comply with any idiotic illegal request including breaking Spiritual Laws, demanded by whoever is paying. Problem for them, the aforementioned supersedes manmade laws that is marinated in millennia of crimes, and recorded across the Cosmos, a space none of them can enter. Those now up in arms do not want to see the Reggae that was nearly banned from the island, and villified, criticized by the church for decades on end, used in any way to promote the black wickedness of reinforcing slave mindedness. This is a replay of the pre 2018 vileness, when the elaborate planning started, but man makes plans, however our Divine makes infinite decisions.

This was shown when in opposition there was collusion between this same gang of politicians and business people, who tried to ban the internet from the island, because they all, including a gaggle of racists and thieves, claimed "the internet did not suit the Afrikan descended population or Barbados," and figured it would bring ancestral and other knowledge to local communities and none wanted that to happen. Then set out to make sure it was removed. Although told they were not in control of the information super highway and do not own it: but failed miserably, and now you cannot keep the same lot of scoundrels off the internet. They use it to perform and carry out any and all scam and lie that flitters into their heads, make and post videos nonstop openly deceiving everyone. These are the spongers deciding the future of Afrikan people, aided and abetted by sellouts. This was done after trying to seal off the population in Barbados and then attempted to spread their filthy wings and ploys across the Caribbean and into the Afrikan continent. The shortsightedness shown in mishandling the reparations sideshow has opened the door for further unimaginable, escalating and uncontrollable breaches. Which happens when all actors can see is money and playing all sides. The reason they were warned, the situation was badly botched from day one, as repeatedly published and will not end well due to who is mangling everything. While they dangled smoke and mirrors at Afrika, who still do not have the full background information to see the real swindle at hand.

However, blinded followers, supporters refused to take heed of the inevitable, and talked nonsense until the lunacy dissolved into silly excuses and then silence, when exposures became uncomfortable. We cannot say the current situation was not willful, since those who always bullrush their way to the front to take control, are only interested in what they can get to personally pocket from every circumstance. Therefore, heavy scrutiny of all involved is essential and must be applied, with unveiling to the internet space every time any evil action is served up, very important nothing stays hidden.

The widely discredited world of illusion administered by the church for many centuries, and now fueled by money given them by the government, must be watched very closely. People who care about what could befall them and everyone who is unaware, making up at least 80% of the population, must defend themselves from further onslaught or continue to complain about being victimized, robbed and demoralized. They have a choice to make, no one is coming to save them.

The population has truthfully had ample, more than enough time to remove themselves and families safely, completely out of the path of the local programmed religious and political wretches in the lead, and their amplified new slave system everyone knew was on its way. They already took the money, not only from UK entities for the reparations pretense, but also from others, for the same reason, the mental enslavement of the gullible, but to discharge different plans.

We have to seek spiritual guidance daily

Spirituality is not an accident, or coincidence

We live with our ancestral spirits, they are alive in us

Reparations With Re-Colonization Strings Attached

There is no more Harriet Tubman, who, had people listened to, read and absorbed her story in the 1800s, and passed down the information to the schools in the Caribbean continuously and into the 21st century, they would never find themselves in this terribly vulnerable position. Populations are truly on their own and have to save themselves, they have had myriad alerts and two decades of data to process.

Barbados - Anglican Church Launches Reparations Project

Source: telegraph.co.uk

<https://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/2023/09/22/anglican-charity-slavery-reparations-barbados-seven-million/>
Anglican charity offers seven million pounds in slavery reparations but is criticized for deciding amount.

This is but one among the many defects derived from begging for reparations that others saw and realized the doom ahead. The way it can be restructured, further modified to keep colonization alive and healthy by unscrupulous political criminal minds on the ground, and who pays them. Although there is a guaranteed way to end it: but with the intention to sell populations to the highest bidder generation after generation, including to those with millennia old ulterior motives, and every maneuver remaining easily unseen for centuries into the future, it is obvious politicians cannot be trusted. Thankfully, most people are now seeing through them.

Barbados has no intention to use the de-colonization prototype available, hence the reason they will never upgrade the school system adequately, and only seek to prolong indefinitely the people's financial, social and cultural misery as paid, so they can enjoy the benefits. When there is only rapacity and no vision the end will never be pretty. As far as I am concerned, just like the 18-point fraud plan to cultivate and roll over colonization into additional kiloyears, well masked under the very transparent decolonization hoax, that is now trending from these political passengers, they will not stop until shut down.

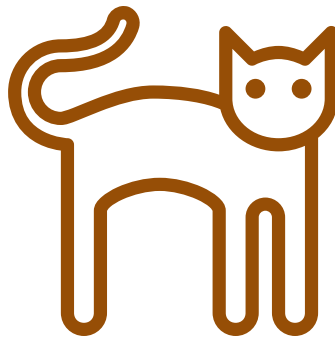

Reparations With Re-Colonization Strings Attached

The most foolish of strategies ever devised, when there is already a precedent in place for constitutional decolonization, and the removal of all colonial codes and laws, which has freed the people of Rwanda. A model set in stone to liberate other former colonies, and prominently displayed by Harvard University. At this point we are not sure which is worse, not knowing that at least one country on the continent decolonized years ago, and the other 53 back then, chose not to, for whatever reason(s).

An ongoing crime against Afrikan populations on an entire continent, that needs to be thoroughly analyzed: as presidents are ferociously fearless in chasing reparations for the last 30 years, but acting timid to decolonize and free the people from constitutional bondage, this makes no sense. We can draw correlations. Since Burkina Faso, Mali and Niger are also well on their way to go the same route as Rwanda, this leaves the fate of 50 countries and populations in Afrika hanging in an extremely precarious balance, as the west defines borders. Pursuing reparations is not the problem, it is the mechanisms, strategies and the mouths lacking proper intelligence being used.

In contrast, Barbados knew all of this, or should have, since I found out the week it happened, was pleasantly surprised and made several comments because it was global headlines. Besides, seven years ago a communique would have been sent to parliaments around the globe advising about the de-colonization of Rwanda. Yet the bajan contingent still presented a clown proposal to Caricom and Ghana/Afrika filled with holes big enough to drill much bigger ones into the document.

Which has evoked peals of laughter, ridicule; and served to emphasize malevolent motives from the very first trip the cabinet made to the continent. All incoming plots leaking from the decayed brains and mouths of colonial politicians, tricksters from Slaverbados, should be ripped up and flushed down the toilet where everything else they think, write and say belongs, then labeled hazardous waste, for memory reference only and relegated to the dustbins of history.

The glaring question now becomes, since the bajan group carry a desperate desire to reign supreme and lead the new global slave system, as they must be first in everything tempestuously revolting against Afrikan people. What will they do next to achieve this boldface crime against humanity? Some people can hazard a guess as they see right through all the current gimmicks.

Excerpts:

A Rastafari response to the Anglican Church in Barbados.

By Ras Simba Akoma

The Echoes of Slavery: Why the Anglican Church's Silence on the Bob Marley Mass Proves Rastafari Right
The controversy surrounding the Anglican Church's "Bob Marley Mass" in Barbados has exposed a deep, unhealed wound. By ignoring the vocal opposition of the Rastafari community, the Anglican Church has not demonstrated Christian charity. Instead, it has validated a painful truth: the colonial church still holds no real regard for Rastafari or African spirituality.

To be clear, this dispute is not about copyrights or musicianship. Bob Marley was a global entertainer. With the proper legal permissions, any group can sing his lyrics or play his chords. The actual crisis is the blinding hypocrisy of an institution using the art of a Rastafari prophet whose entire life's work was dedicated to dismantling the very system that the Anglican Church represents.

You cannot love the culture and despise the people.

The Historical War on African Spirituality

This clash is not new. The European Christian church, founded within the bosom of colonialism and transatlantic slavery, has a long history of violently suppressing African spirituality.

The Doctrine of Discovery (1493): Papal edicts gave European empires theological permission to enslave non-Christian indigenous and African peoples, claiming their souls needed "saving" while stealing their bodies and labor.

Reparations With Re-Colonization Strings Attached

The Persecution of Rastafari: When the Rastafari movement emerged, it was met with brutal state and church crackdowns. Elders were shaved, beaten, and imprisoned for rejecting European imagery of the divine and asserting their African identity.

The Anglican Church's current stance shows that the spirit of the plantation has merely evolved into institutional indifference.

True reconciliation requires justice, not just a reggae bassline in the pews.

Harriet Tubman
1821 - 1913

Excerpt:

Harriet Tubman and the Underground Railroad

"There are few figures in nineteenth-century history whose lives so powerfully challenge the limits placed upon them as Harriet Tubman. Born into slavery, denied formal education, and subjected to violence from childhood, she would become one of the most effective and determined freedom fighters in American history. Her name is inseparable from the Underground Railroad - the secret network that helped enslaved people escape to freedom."

Over the last 5 years valuable content was given freely with all the tools and weapons needed to beat back evil politicians, their colonial schooled minions, supporters, local minority criminals, all with long term plans to re-enslave. The internet has been available for over 25 years, with much distilled information easily accessible, everything needed to proceed, protect self and everyone else around. Let us not forget our Prophets past and now their children and grandchildren constantly remind us about the dangers. With newer Spiritually and ancestrally blessed Prophets, Writers, Singers taking their place. I can rattle off laundry lists of names of esteemed scholars and others, across continents who issued real alarm bells, and also point out thousands of applicable videos, many on my websites. Therefore, the targeted cannot say they do not have the privilege to view the necessary instruments to free themselves from the traps set by parliament.

While the cabinet continues to hide the details that will save the people, and monetize it for their own selfish, avaricious criminally created endeavors. No one took the real Pan Afrikanists and freedom fighters who went out of their way within the last 50-70 years to make sure we knew the truth, seriously, but listen faithfully to bajan political fraudsters leading them astray. So sad. Hope they recover and wake up soon, before things get so much worse, then they will not even be able to save self.

In the meantime, the parliamentary losers failed spectacularly at a Spiritual disconnection, took on a mission that was so disastrous, it went cockup even before it started. Wasted eight long years, landed the island in so much more debt than when they began, and is now more notorious than ever for all the wrong reasons. So what now? Do they actually believe the church will reap more success, where they stumbled and fell, given such ugly backgrounds with the stench seeping out of both and permeating everything. Amen Ra

The Mdw Ntr - Divine Words Of The Creator By An Elder

However, we must look inside ourselves
The morning light is soft...
A light breeze rustling through trees
The rythmical pulse of the universe
Like a dance, can't you feel it...?
Please don't miss this groove...
Can't you see it...? Close your eyes and look with your mind
There is only One Master Drummer in the universe
And everything is moving to the Creator's beat...
Echoing magical heart melodies of life
We, Afrakans are the baddest drummers on earth, because we were the first, the original Melanated Earth Spirits.
Obedient children and dynamic students of nature
Afrakan drum beats imitating heartbeats
As we echo the sounds of life, the sounds of spirits
We are part of all that there is...
There is nothing outside the Spirit
There is only the infinite now, harmonious order...
Spiritual Oneness... Infinite Peace...
