As things stand, most of the money in the treasury consists of loans that must be repaid, meaning it cannot be touched with more flimsy excuses given, or accepted by present day creditors; and using every available interchangeable business name under the sun, the norm, to run grander artifices. While spreading taxpayer's money amongst themselves, is now severely hampered. Since everyone has already taken much more than they should every election cycle, nine or ten to date, by force, overusing the courts in the 1980s and whichever legal crevice is available to crawl through since then: has finally emptied all available surplus in the treasury, caught up with them, leaving the economy in ruins operating on fumes.

While holding the view that the taxpayer reserves, vat and pension fund are still every local and foreign crook's personal piggy bank to self advance. A long held habit, and by virtue of that should be refilled with reparations money that rightfully belongs to our long gone ancestors and their living ascendants into the next 20 generations and beyond, given certain history the "I want money," slaver, droolers know zero about. None of which should go into the grubby hands of the colonial schooled, overly eager, created gangsters, masquerading as leaders or their minority partners who already took ownership, and are all setting policies for the future lives of ascendants they plan to rob, whose human rights they still intend to violate, the audacity.

Soon we will hear the people owe each of them billions of dollars, an old minority ruse they always pull to gain access to take more. Although they are the eager bandits; hence the anger at "idiot," #1 for daring to just days ago attempt to upstage the plot. Immediately after locking down the courts to prevent the removal of the illegal government by a Judge's decision, they were not about to concede any questionable election outcomes, when so much negative energy has been poured into a claim that is not even theirs; all the grandiose cunning already laid out and about to implement more deviousness, as the committed and totally invested, none of which was going to go to waste.

They would try to move the hell where they belong, and should all burn in, to see it to the very end. Although all the dreams in place can and will easily turn into a proverbial and well earned inescapable nightmare of epic proportions, burnt to ashes, and is long overdue. None of them seem the least bit concerned, no one is stepping back, it is full steam ahead, well let us see how well that one turns out. We are left to witness the colossal failures unfolding, the legacy of blundering debacles, as most of the information publicly tumbles out for local, regional debates and consumption.

When Politicians in Slaverbados are Desperate for Money to Steal - A Satirical Ego Trip Takes Over

The elderly who built the island's economy with their lives and taxes, are now the ones reportedly bearing the brunt of the long standing lack of integrity and unethical behavior from the parliament. They are the ones paying an extremely steep price while in their most vulnerable state, the final years, and left to suffer, starve, exposed to disease and a life endangering environment that the government managed institutions have become, due to neglect and lack of proper healthcare, as reported. When we thought it could not get any worse, we were wrong.

One of the reasons, the most urgent to date, comes from this gang in transporting slaves out of Nigeria, since they have borrowed approximately 100 million dollars from Arab states, and that is only what is publicly known. Despite the outlined history, and present day concerns of anti-Black Afrikan activities still ruining lives; only fools would find themselves thus indebted, having borrowed from just about everyone else on earth, and up to their hairlines in unpayable loans. These self described political millionaires own the Arab debt and should be the ones responsible to personally repay from their bank accounts, no one asked them to go lay in a financial beggars bed with Saudi Arabia or any other gulf state, the epitome of worthlessness, since most people do not know what they have done. Slaverbados should be permanently barred from luring anyone else out of Afrika, pull the rug from under this slavery operation before it goes any further, let us see where they pivot for slaves next.

According to the talk shows and those in the know, all the harebrained projects remain unfinished, and the money unaccounted for; but slavery is now staring at anyone uninformed enough to get involved with Slaverbados, now so desperate, as a last resort to snare the unaware however they can, for the numerous slaver companies on the island like Jada Group/Infra, and would do and say just about anything to succeed. Since there is no other way out of this unbelievable but expected finale, the predicament.

A conclusion that was inevitable, hence my years of resistance, and apprehension to any representation from them whatsoever, would never endorse them in any capacity. Particularly on the continent while fueled and advised by the island and region's most hateful, criminal minority of thieves. Therefore, the cascading misfortunes were expected from the local government underachievers, this is the vindication.

When Politicians in Slaverbados are Desperate for Money to Steal - A Satirical Ego Trip Takes Over

Amazingly, the previously mentioned "useful idiot," #1 suggested (former?) colonies should pay (former?) slave masters for the money they spent, a real retard comment by a bobblehead garden gnome type who also agreed 100% with a new slave system, as then home secretary, under one of the recent, multiple former UK PMs; and who was actually fired not long after; but holds a personal opinion about what Afrikan descendants of historical ongoing human rights atrocities by everyone, including "idiot#2," should not get.

Were we to point out our stolen birthright out of Afrika for thousands of years, then most recently hundreds of more years, that we knew nothing about prior, and only just finding out the magnitude of thefts against our ancestral holdings, after years of research. Were we to ever suggest that India pay their multiple former colonisers for the hundreds of years they endured as "self-sold" slaves/starvation victims, now owing their former masters for "selling themselves into slavery," as opposed to our Afrikan ancestors being kidnapped by traitors and their collaborators, not unlike the one who she attacked, who is still selling us out today, a gigantic difference, the bobblehead garden gnome would pretend ignorance, and also take umbrage, the nerve.

However, the other generational puppet from Slaverbados, who is 100% in approval like her UK counterpart about, and staunchly backing the re-enslavement of Afrikan people, given recent repulsive actions, took offense, chimed in, calling "idiot," #1's statement "asinine," in an acid retort, but currently milking it on Youtube for all it is worth to seem like anything other than an opportunist with a gruesome agenda.

Apparently the announcement was addressed directly to the organizers of the new Slaverbados, as they are the only one who publicly answered by videos, but so obsessed with getting reparations in their greedy hands are visibly vibrating in anticipation, making themselves easy targets. Problem with that dispute, they are both on the same page, the divergence occurred when "useful idiot," #2 saw an instant threat to the reparations scam, and the beard/tool/moves used to trick and manipulate Afrika.

When Politicians in Slaverbados are Desperate for Money to Steal - A Satirical Ego Trip Takes Over

After all the intricate plotting in place to steal the whole thing and ride high as an invincible wannabe empress Bokassa bullying everyone, even though that notion can easily get cat spraddled, during the scattered brain fantasy and will, but "the useful idiot," cannot see that far ahead, and is defensive. This is starting to look like a grotesque competition started between the slave master's two leading political imps. Those with colonial schooling have become a major problem to everyone, seeing themselves as larger than life and everyone else.

All of this makes perfect sense to them and they seem to have gotten psychotic to the point of not letting go, holding on by their fingertips to prove they are relevant during all the episodes of ranting and raving: have managed to become detached from reality, and as previously written, made themselves the oddities of this era, on full display for some kind of weird comic relief, that benefits no one, and still using the usual distractions, just before some kind of disenfranchising heist takes place. How did we reach here is a throw away question, what we hope is that Slaverbados with its 1661 Slave Codes never, ever again has easy access to Afrika or its people to commit more well designed hateful barbarities, an assignment not yet fully completed/accomplished by the cabinet.

How unsurprising, the recent government confessed Slaver company Jada Group/Infra is now Vineyard Development Inc., same owner brand new name, standard operating procedure:

When Politicians in Slaverbados are Desperate for Money to Steal - A Satirical Ego Trip Takes Over

When you have designs on getting trillions of dollars in your hands that do not belong to you, despite trying to become the world's most dangerous slave master, yet brazenly taking offense over an empty headed comment by a UK has been, because you think it is okay to enslave people in this epoch, and demand reparations while you are at it, your mental state comes into question. There is so much mix up right now, apparently separating issues has become difficult due to the tangled web weaved when they overreached in practicing to deceive everyone, and ended up wandering totally out of sync, and can no longer keep up the painted face disguise.

The question is, how can the colonial schooled give themselves special privileges, when they are not The Ones, never were, a delusion to believe they ever could be, do not even know what that means, and succeeded in making themselves look deranged, coming from deep within the bowels of gangster lifestyle. Despite popping up at the front uninvited, then running the length and breadth of Afrika putting down stakes, and uprooting humans for transport across the Atlantic, an extremely significant, but laughable period which is very likely to turn quite ugly, they somehow still do not believe they have done anything wrong, as usual.

The massive, painstaking, well scripted ploys by their local masters against Afrika, in which they happily participated and executed, with the Prime Monster as the decoy carrying out retrograde wishes and requests, are not done yet. Apparently, they and their fellow schemers see themselves as the ones to get payment for everything already stolen by them on the island from the oppressed and exploited, while designing more fraud to unleash on the continent. However, none seem in the least bit concerned about the perception, or believe it could end exactly as it should for the determined leeches.

A Petition To The IACHR, Arguing That Barbados Is In Violation Of The American Convention On Human Rights.

Personally I will never participate in anything Slaverbados puts together, from a child I found it repulsive and hypocritical, since everything they touch is accompanied by the stench of the 1661 Slave Codes, aimed directly at Afrikan ascendants, and always violating every local and international law in place that is meant to protect civil liberties, basic human rights, and personal space.

I find it demeaning and insulting, while thoroughly enjoyed by the black faces perpetrating, once any lowlife like themselves are paying them directly for the impunity. One day they celebrate their version of Emancipation Day, the very next day they continue treating the population as slaves, without any pause, at the behest of their local masters. A total step down I see as way beneath my unique heritage to even recognize such low energy, lower vibrational slaver antics, their worthless system, their valueless laws, coming from a mentally diseased, viciously deadly, criminally corrupt parliament wrapped up tightly in colonialism.

Excerpts:

Source: Ras Simba Paul

"Dogs were primary tools of terror used to enforce labor and prevent escape on Caribbean plantations. White planters imported and bred specialized hound varieties, such as Cuban bloodhounds, specifically trained to hunt down, maim, and terrorize enslaved Africans. These animals were not kept as companions. They functioned as biometric weapons of the state and plantocracy. The sensory terror of barking hounds, combined with the physical brutality of the hunts, served as a highly effective psychological mechanism to crush the human impulse for freedom."

"A widening boycott of state-sponsored Emancipation Day celebrations by diverse civic organizations would fundamentally reshape the island's political, cultural, and historical landscape. By disrupting the State's historical narrative it highlights the paradox of a government celebrating historical emancipation from slavery while actively enforcing restrictive laws against an indigenous, Afro-Caribbean spiritual community."

A Petition To The IACHR, Arguing That Barbados Is In Violation Of The American Convention On Human Rights.

"Organizations would send a clear message that official cultural pageantry is empty without tangible civil rights and legal protections for marginalized groups."

"Legal teams are drafting a petition to the IACHR, arguing that Barbados is in violation of the American Convention on Human Rights. Specifically, they are citing Article 12 (Freedom of Conscience and Religion) and Article 24 (Equal Protection), asserting that the 2019 Act discriminates against Rastafarians compared to mainstream Christian denominations, which face no spatial or state-monopolized restrictions on their sacrament."

"Broad institutional resistance signals to bodies like CARICOM and the United Nations that Barbados is facing a legitimate domestic human rights crisis."

African Heritage Foundation (AHF)

After asking questions, specifically because of the knowledge that Barbados always refuses to ratify any UN or other human rights declarations once it favors Afrikan descended people and their given human rights which are always violated by the parliament. I do believe this is one, under the Pact of San Jose, where they are forced to comply, and can be successfully accessed to have politicians appear and give answers. This is exactly the kind of human rights information Slaverbados would never want the majority population knowing anything about.

This writer is of the firm opinion the time has long passed that Barbados is finally brought to book, it has gotten completely out of control in believing no one can stop its human rights violating violence against Black African people. Had this not been allowed to continue for such an indefinite period, they could never have gotten the confidence to introduce the well honed malignant inhumanity to our ancestral space:

A Petition To The IACHR, Arguing That Barbados Is In Violation Of The American Convention On Human Rights.

The Inter-American Human Rights System

The Inter-American Human Rights System became effective with the adoption of the American Declaration of the Rights and Duties of Man in Bogotá, Colombia in April of 1948. This Declaration was the first international human rights instrument of a general nature. The system was established for the promotion and protection of human rights in the 35 independent member States of the Organization of American States (OAS).

The American Convention on Human Rights, also known as the Pact of San Jose, was adopted on November 22, 1969. It is an international treaty that contemplates the rights and liberties that must be respected by States Parties. The Convention establishes two organs: the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights ("IACHR" or "the Commission") and the Inter-American Court of Human Rights ("Court" or "Inter-American Court"). These two bodies form what has become known as the Inter-American Human Rights System, and are both competent to hear issues regarding the compliance of agreements undertaken by States Parties to the Convention, and regulates their operations.

Lying About The Age Of Consent Since The 1970s

In the 1970s we were told the age of consent was 16, but kept wondering why so many little girls and boys were raped at 12 and 13 years old, and seemed normal. Something was wrong, but having no legal knowledge we could not figure it out, but have come to learn why so many so called fake elites, especially those in the judiciary and parliament, always got away with rape of small children, including the lower class predators, like themselves, they loosed on communities. They manipulated the entire situation for decades, still doing so today in stealth, it is only since more information became available, we are able to put together what was really done, and shine a spotlight on them.

The ugliness in Sinbados using schemes and trickery to get free Afrikan births after destroying their local women socially, psychologically, financially must be forever exposed, and the Prime Monster completely stopped from removing uninformed pregnant women and other people off the Afrikan continent under guise forthwith. Afrika can now see clearly the demonic that presented and loosed itself on them, it is all a set up, and yes, both dangerously immoral governments did indeed groom small children for the sex tourism industry:

Lying About The Age Of Consent Since The 1970s

1990's Barbados - I remember vividly Dr. Schlosberg speaking specifically, not just about STDs, but about the AIDS virus in particular. A distinct threat that eventually wiped out many young people, including the entire well known flamboyant gay community from the 1970s-80s died, by 2004 they were all a memory, and he was chased off the island for his efforts. We have been cursed with a parliament of Licensed Liars.

Excerpts:

"QUESTIONS.

Our young people should ask: (i) why were they groomed from primary school to gyrate on strangers in public, with the sorry excuse that it was our national dance, (ii) for whose pleasure were they groomed and (iii) was the explosion of STDs, unwanted pregnancies and abortions a fair exchange for increased tourist arrivals."

"TOO LITTLE TOO LATE.

In 1992, the legal age of sexual consent was raised to 16, but the law provided a loophole to allow a person under 25 years old to have consensual sex with a 14 year old if they thought the minor was 16 [5]. Nevertheless, two hands seemed to be pursuing conflicting plans."

"FEELING THE VIBE.

There is a global network of pedophiles who prey on children as exposed by INTERPOL. The legal age of sexual consent in Barbados in the 1980s appears to have been 13 years old (I welcome any law suggesting a higher age). Kadooment became a magnet that attracted men and women laden with STDs and willing to spread them.

"In that year, Dr Charles Schlosberg, a British consultant working for the Government of Barbados, publicly warned that the sexual behaviour of our young people would end in disaster. He wrote the following.

"Barbados now is like a truck driving at a cliff edge on a dark night with the lights off, if the lights are put on now, it can escape with a bad squeal of the breaks (sic). If not then the children of 2000 will look back over the wreckage of the nineties and ask with every justification, WHY?" [4]."

Lying About The Age Of Consent Since The 1970s

"In response, the Government fired him and appeared to pursue a policy of: (i) eliminating the social stigma associated with having an STD, (ii) allowing abortion on-demand as a birth-control measure (which is an illegal practice in the Medical Termination of Pregnancy Act), (iii) not reporting the total number of abortions in Barbados (only those at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital) and (iv) promoting homosexuality."

"THE AGENDA

Fifty years of evidence suggests an agenda to sacrifice our lambs. Our: teachers, doctors, nurses, entertainers, revellers and young people are all pawns to get pregnant women to believe the lie that their children are unwanted. Since 1980. medical doctors who should do no harm, slaughtered over 100,000 of our children in the safest place designed for them - their mother's womb, for which they earned over $100 million."
