SUN CHILDREN WILL RISE AGAIN

Inside my spirit is the eternal sperm of life, the seeds for yesterday and tomorrow
I am the creator of the Twin Lions
I am the seed and the crop, call me Asr
Today is here only because you have been entrapped by time
There is only the infinite now, the eternal moment
You can't control time
Control is the illusionary entrapment of energy
Ma'at is the positive use of this energy, which creates freedom, void of time
Esfet is the negative use of this energy, moving energies out of balance, which creates a prison, and called western time

The 2026 UN General Assembly - A Burlesque Show
By Empress Wuraola Oya

Sounding off at the UN General Assembly annually, with very few Afrikan representatives actually making any genuine effort to relay an instant workable blueprint for metamorphosis, or onboard doable widespread frameworks, does not instill much ancestral confidence overall: when the following year arrives, only some can show achievements, or improvements. However, the others nevertheless break out the weeping rags and tissues once again. This also applies to the Caribbean. We have long paired it to a talk shop for petulant grievances, a cry-fest while not expecting to or earnestly enforcing, embracing any significant changes.

With many using the occasion to bathe themselves in the floodlights only, until next year where there is a speechifying repeat, same cast. In the case of the Caribbean this year, misappropriating Selassie's 1963, or any meaningful speeches made by real Pan Afrikanists to set up a degenerate agenda, as is the norm, was no surprise either. Due to not having an original recitation in their mouths or ideas in their heads, "could not even find one in the christian bible," but seeking only admiration, at the expense of authentic speakers. However, the chatterbox was soon rightfully warned to overhaul the inequalities, injustices in Barbados first before pointing fingers at world powers.

An unsettling truthful analysis by a brilliant Jamaican, and beautifully delivered. Once the advice is followed, this would be setting the prime example, and tone finally. No one is looking for a talker, taxpayers want civil servants who can work for their pay, as hired by the people. A 21L X 14W island riddled with anti-African racism, South Africa style apartheid, exploitation, oppression, the boldface reintroduction and modern day normalization of human trafficking/slavery and increasingly larger thefts from the people, as staples well-built into governmental agencies: that everyone can identify, and known about for decades..

While complaining on the world stage about everyone else, yet cannot eliminate the culturized home grown depravity aimed at the majority, but determinedly building a house of cards using the UN. This leeway to disrupt, signals the permissible incompetence, hypocrisy deployed, and given the greenlight to misuse the UN's visibility as a burlesque show to network, reel in like minded players, and shows deliberate intent.

The 2026 UN General Assembly - A Burlesque Show

The fact this is allowed highlights the weaknesses in the entire global process, and validates crime and corruption, against Afrikan descents. Most people do not know this is an annual UN affair, which produces very little progress among Afrikan and Caribbean members. Unless the UN body votes as a block and issues directives like the recent advances given to Afrika and the Caribbean to work with. Which should have seen most of them too busy building and strengthening new legal foundations, to still appear at the Assembly and spout such nonsense. However, we find so called leaders still revert to the same societal destroying practices and are not curbed, but prepare another written script for the upcoming year's event to rattle on and point fingers. A glorified talk fest only, with which I am certainly not impressed. Where the ones knowing who they are, believe they are slick, fooling the entire world and getting away again while improving on their speeches, and venal leanings.

Seaside, Costa Rica

It is not like the UN agencies have no clue what each country engages in, they carry multiple decades-old reports on associated activities, and are up-to-date no matter the level of criminality. Why then do we have to point out these inadequacies, and be subjected to a yearly selection in an enclosure, an arena of jokers, except for the few progressives. When it is the UNs job to shut down the political gaming of the entire system, by talk-only teams who see areas where they can exploit the situation and keep things going for longer than they should. Once allowed on the same path of nothing happening because no one is changing course.

Where there is no inspiration to clean up respective jurisdictions, but leave them as is to further debase, and used repeatedly as a battering ram to bellyache on stage incessantly, in a chorus. While stubbornly refusing to acknowledge their own culpability in also reducing everything to hedonistic and demonic rubble, social partitioning. With no incentives given for the people to rise or prosper. We know there are centuries of historical antagonism negatively impacting billions of people, but there are also those utilizing the UN as their main port for the debut and continuation of incitement, by applying reverse psychology, and need to be controlled by the powers-that-be: to prevent the future growth of a larger spectacle aimed at misdirection.

The 2026 UN General Assembly - A Burlesque Show

This is unacceptable, there is more than enough blame to go around on all sides, with volumes of available laws with which to end this parade of additional ruination. Which will never happen once the enabling mechanism remains accessible. Therefore, the UN is not functioning in accordance with its original structure for which it was created, but instead manipulated by those who live to escape accountability, with the skills to do so, and now pouring all their energies into saying one thing while in proximity to other nations, but immediately restructuring hidden ways and means in which to better function and harness the inscrutability to proceed with verve in opposite directions, once the UN show is over.

The Afrikan continent is a whole other exercise in understanding what drives certain presidents to leave the people living decades far behind what is possible, abject poverty can be significantly reduced, then entirely eliminated. The bad roads that are more like dirt tracks, which are fixable. Even worse, proper drainage systems are largely nonexistent, sporadic electricity is a daily cry. Meaning grids are inadequate and overloaded. Spotty water access is the normal, ditto mediocre structural engineering, no mystery there.

Hilton, Barbados

These are all manageable once proper systems are put in place. This is not a job for the UK or Europe, who is not the day-to-day managers in individual countries, but that of elected government officials, politicians who we are quite sure promised entire populations that is what they will get, but yet to deliver decades later. Black Americans who made the trek, answered the lure to Afrika, now have to leave and return to the US because of all the above.

Not even Afrikans recently born in the Americas in the last 25 years can take the ongoing social stagnation and refuse to stay, the culture shock to them is frightening. Although, over the years, managing to get few things done, and off the ground only in certain areas, but not for the vast majority on the continent. These individuals are saying in no uncertain terms what most presidents do is not encouraging, and are also not accepting the cultural norms in place they view as archaic and life destroying especially for young girls and women. This is in direct contrast to Afrikans domiciled in the US telling Black Americans they have no culture, but local custom is killing and damaging women and girls with ancient torture, and taboos in Afrika. Living in glass houses but throwing stones, instead of focusing on drawing tribes into a better state of mind.

The 2026 UN General Assembly - A Burlesque Show

The people who experienced this first hand now make videos deriding the lack of basic amenities that are expected as a paid service in the west, but severely lacking in Afrika. While Barbados only has a deficient form of social care, welfare, degrading daily, no matter how many lies told or big boasts made, but still available for now. We understand Afrika has none at all for its people. Therefore, how do so many talking heads end up at the UN complaining about everything under the sun, yet are depriving hundreds of millions of Afrikans their entitled quality of life, a fair share of proportionate access to water, electricity, and further developmental improvements.

I am sure they all travel to the US, and European countries, have relatives who live or were born there, and know what is available, just like Caricom politicians, but equally sure they only enjoy copying the negatives to make life even harder for the vast majority, mirroring their counterparts. Will never adopt the positives that exist in all western jurisdictions and contribute to advancements for the people, due to a decayed mindset.

The west is not responsible for any of that, but on the ground central governments, village chiefs, kings etc certainly are, and we see no encouragement where they plan to do any better by the people, anytime soon, but can hope they immediately revise and reset mentalities.

So tell us again, exactly what type of plans are yall hatching against Afrikan descents, with incompetent Caricom governments as advisers? Who will never get away with not providing even minimum social services to the people in this region. While presidents escape providing none at all to Afrikans although paid a monthly salary, but have grandiose fantasies to take control of our lives, and the future of our descendants along with their Caricom sidekicks.

Try explaining that one to us in simple terms, we cannot wait to find out and will certainly listen. What we want to know is exactly what you can do for us that we cannot do for ourselves a thousand times more effectively and much better than you can dream about or are doing for continental Afrikans right now. Just bear in mind we are not political yard fowls, followers, supporters, admirers of politicians, in other words the vegetated, muzzled and neutered slave minded we are not, we have self-respect.

We warned that Barbados was misleading everyone, but will learn the hard way eventually to stay in their lanes of corruption where it is much safer for now, since no one is doing anything meaningful about them yet.

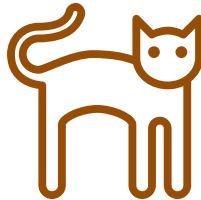

Leave Afrikan Descents Alone - Complete Delineation

The surreptitious and unscrupulous anti-people movements caused this outcome in the last quarter century. Agencies claiming they are "educated," but only schooled, should know better and have instead focused on rectifying the numerous, now escalating problems within their respective societies, but made ill-informed decisions and decided they were going to cause the havoc we see today, while neglecting their jobs. Black Americans have drawn up borders that neither Afrikan nor Caribbean politicians and their little imps can cross any longer, the result of the demeaning handiwork and affront shown.

As a Caribbean Afrikan, I have personally called for both sides to leave us alone at least 30 Kush articles or more ago. If there is nothing constructive Afrika has to share, hold a civil one on one conversation with us or relate at the ancestral realm, but no one listened. Since Afrika does not consider us, why would they want to immerse us in whatever game of secrets they are playing with Caricom, and without our knowledge or consent. We do not appreciate anyone planning for our lives without our input. This is equated to one of the disturbingly, worst wilful cases of malicious mischief-making to date, that has horrified numerous people who are now coming to grips with what was done; and triggered a conversation in the zone of self-protection.

Very similar to Barbados working overtime, while trying to impose and bully its way into taking authority over the Caribbean region without any permissions, experience or intelligence. Only the weak minded, with cotton wool for brains who know no better will sit around and allow that perilously, endangering travesty. Vote riggers should not be allowed any such authority, and boundaries must be set and mapped out by Caricom.

I personally cannot speak about Caribbean people and the way they relate to Black Americans in the US, since I did not witness their output on that subject, but know for sure they carry a ridiculous attitude toward each other, and are always experts on the politics and religion that keeps their minds indefinitely trapped. Unable to escape, and get really aggressive when trying to ring fence and capture everyone else in an indoctrinated state of blood thirsty flux, just as done in the Caribbean in communities who reject slave mindedness.

Leave Afrikan Descents Alone - Complete Delineation

Once you rebuff their erroneous take on reality, the decadent dogma placed in their heads from the cradle to the grave by churches and politicians, they take great offense. So therefore, not surprised they are also being mentioned as using the same tactics as uninformed Afrikans to terrorize everyone into compliance. I did get information to that effect, just as was received about continental Afrikans, but waited for more details from other sources who have actually seen the monster acts at play and documented them, before publishing, now it has been made public:

"The New Talk

6. Africans and Caribbeans admit to receiving "The Talk," a practice that teaches ethnic bigotry against Black Americans. If anyone on earth should warn about people's cultures, morals, and propensity to violence, it should be Black Americans."

I can truthfully say, they all brought this on themselves, and I know they have been trained in the US that attitude is everything and can make or break, they obviously ignored the sound advice. The current accused would be some of the Caribbean American people on the slower spectrum, living in the US and now trying to pressure Black Americans and enlightened Afrikan Caribbean descents to believe and buy whatever Caribbean prevaricators, and some Afrikan presidents are selling. Who by the way have never acknowledged our existence, but expect us to follow them blindly into some abattoir-like scenario.

Fool our Afrikan ancestors once, shame on you,
Fool our Afrikan ancestors twice, shame on us.....I think you got the drift.

Overhauling And Abolishing Slave Systems, Racism And Slave Codes

None are allowed to lead this ancestral oration, particularly Barbados where the ancestor's voice is gloriously nonexistent, forever muted, cannot be duplicated, not even with AI; and are not entitled to earn the privilege. While carrying an abominable plan and only they know the specifics, so are not trusted by anyone of significance. Since no documentation is available they have anything better to offer populations.

However, we have evidence they have nothing even close to good, let alone better or best for continental Afrikans or Caribbean/American people for that matter. Otherwise, neither region would be facing such social upheavals, economic down swings, massive lack of opportunities for its people. Who now have nowhere to go without severe restrictions in place, since the "Tek the Visa," Caricom throwback, and now saddled with frightening uncertainty into the future, as talking heads are ill-prepared.

Although both continents were so close, for so long, not even a shadow could pass between them, yet have achieved nothing meaningful to showcase, in eight years. Unless Afrika can present what they are bringing to the table, and not just the level of duplicity they engage in with local and regional politicians whom we do not have any desire to be affiliated with for any reason. Therefore, they too are suspect, and increasingly revealing themselves as an ongoing threat, and must attest otherwise.

In the interim, three significant events worth recording, that need acting upon:

UN members, 123 in numbers, August of 2026 provided Afrika and all Black led countries worldwide the implements to activate a complete overhaul of neglected social systems and governmental oversights. Including legislative reconfigurations and removal of slave laws and codes to avoid repeats of the "gravest crimes against humanity." Start work on that instantaneously, instead of weeping and wailing at the UN.

The Namibian court's international precedent set the pace for populations thus impacted to take charge of all reparative justice to which they are entitled. Therefore Black, and other governments everywhere, should only be providing the legal means to proceed, already paid for by taxpayers, and involve themselves in nothing else to do with the process.

The UN Committee then legally interpreted, that racism and slavery are irreversibly intertwined. Dismantling in combination should be the priority, especially on small islands like Barbados, who practice both. When weaponized against the majority population creating lifetimes of injustices for incoming groups of birth, each generation. This is what Caribbean governments should be working on, since it also spilled over into Caricom states. Afrikan descents when visiting are also subjected to the hateful practice, even though we are all cousins. Foreign workers from other groups are horribly exploited. Barbados should abolish both right away.

For the 10th thousand time, Caricom politicians do not represent us in anything, never will, they are too tainted. No matter how they run up to the UN and spew left over, secondhand bile all over everyone, or stalk around the world stage making nuisances of themselves. We are not awestruck by any of it, they are vexatious to our Spirit. Amun Ra

Ungratefulness is an ugly characteristic indeed:

"The New Talk

5. No one has done more than Black Americans to help African descendants.

Examples: Black Americans have historically advocated for other countries and ethnicities. At a time when Chinese Americans were scapegoated as the "Yellow Peril," Frederick Douglass spoke out against the Chinese exclusion act. Douglass also advocated for Chinese and Japanese immigration. In 1935, 20,000 protestors in New York, Chicago, Detroit, etc., marched to support Ethiopia. Black Americans faced violence from Italian Americans in support of Italy's invasion of Ethiopia. The "Brown Condor," John Charles Robinson, an American, an activist, and a Tuskegee graduate, volunteered to lead aviators against Italian forces as a commander in the Ethiopian Air Force.

Black Americans publicly opposed Japanese internment, the Vietnam War, Colonial Africa, the Philippine-American War, and the United States of America's Colonial rule in the Philippines. Cesar Chavez, an activist, labor leader, and founder of the United Farm Workers, was supported by Black American Civil Rights activists. The Congressional Black Caucus was instrumental in ending Apartheid, and Black Americans protested and boycotted Apartheid-owned companies.

The Congressional Black Caucus attends meetings, files petitions, writes letters, addresses deportations, African trade deals, Caribbean disasters (hurricanes and earthquakes.), Indian caste systems, FGM/female genital mutilation (HR 6100), SARS (police brutality in Nigeria), Boca Haram victims, child brides, honor killings, forced marriages, institutionalized domestic violence, institutionalized sexual abuse, terrorism, etc.

Black Americans fought against savage portrayals of Africans in cartoons, advertisements, film, television, and magazines (National Geographic, National Wildlife, etc.) When a person of African ancestry is harmed overseas, Black Americans shine a spotlight, and the international community responds. Black Americans donate millions to charities, individually or through churches and organizations."
